Tuesday Ballot Margins To Get World Notice

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon staged a final sprint seeking to turn out the Republican vote, while Democrat Eugene J. McCarthy stuck to his standard low-key style in windup campaigning for Tuesday's season-opening New Hampshire presidential primary.

Nixon's final campaign stand today featured a series of brief visits to his headquarters in five cities. He set the tone at a Nashua reception Sunday night, urging Republicans to vote Tuesday, telling them:

"We're going to win. We're going to win in March and we're going to win in November. It's going to be a new day for America."

There appeared to be no way Nixon, the only major candidate among nine on the Republican ballot, could lose in New Hampshire. The real question: How big a margin can he produce over the late-starting write-in movement for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller?

McCarthy, the Minnesota senator challenging President Johnson's renomination, said if he can get 25 per cent of the vote Tuesday it will be a signal of significant criticism for administration policy on Vietnam and other issues.

"I'm hopeful, and this is not just a vague hope, that we may very well run over 30 per cent," McCarthy said.

McCarthy planned to record an election-eve television program in Boston, then return to New Hampshire to await primary results.

He suggested that if the administration is considering sending another 200,000 men to Vietnam this should have been presented to the people of New Hampshire so they could render a judgment on it in the primary.

"If they really have this in mind," he said in an interview, "they ought to let us know so that there could be a judgment by the people up here."

U.S. Willing To Meet Reds' Top Condition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk offered today to stop the bombing of North Vietnam to get war settlement talks going.

Testifying at the long-awaited confrontation with war critics on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Rusk said in order to bring about the talks "we are willing to meet their principal condition — stopping of the bombing."

Whatever provisos may exist as to reciprocal action by the other side, Rusk did not spell them out immediately.

He renewed the U.S. pledge that "we are prepared to negotiate today without any conditions."

Rusk's statement came at the end of a sharp exchange with Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, who told the secretary he is more than ever convinced "that our present policies in Vietnam have had and will have effects 'abroad and at home that are nothing short of disastrous.'"

Argue 1964 Incident

Rusk mentioned the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution, which has been a principal vehicle for attacks on the administration by critical senators, saying "we hoped that Tonkin would serve as a deterrent" but that "unfortunately it did not have that deterrent effect."

Fulbright promptly criticized the administration's contention that U.S. responses to the Gulf of Tonkin incident were due to provocations by Communist warboats.

"The provocations to say the least were extremely slight," Fulbright said, adding that "they could well determine that we were determined to attack them."

At another point Fulbright told Rusk there are "striking discrepancies" between events of the war and the administration's description of them.

He said what he called discrepancies have caused a crisis in this country over the war.

Foreign Aid Plea

Rusk's opening statement was a plea for committee support for the administration's new foreign aid bill of nearly $3 billion. He had come prepared, however, for sharp questioning on Vietnam.

Fulbright, long a leading critic of the Johnson administration's conduct of the war, said that "we are all for our fighting men in Vietnam but we disagree as to whether they ought to be fighting there—as to whether the cause to which we have committed them is worth their lives and their terrible sacrifices."

"These are not trivial disagreements and it would be a disservice to the country to pretend they were insignificant," Fulbright said.

The chairman said the administration has described the war as one to prove that Communist war of national liberation cannot succeed.

"We are not proving that," Fulbright said, and questioned: "What, indeed, are we proving in Vietnam except that even with an army of half a million men and expenditures approaching $30 billion a year, we cannot win a civil war for a regime which is incapable of inspiring the patriotism of its own people?"

The chairman also asked, "Even if we can afford the money, can we afford the sacrifice of American lives in so dubious a cause?"

The committee contains several of the Senate's most vocal war critics.

Not Winning

Fulbright and Rusk greeted each other cordially, with a handshake and smiles, moments before the session began.

In his prepared testimony, Rusk urged Congress not to delay or abandon foreign aid because of the war in Vietnam. He argued that the aid program is vital to U.S. security and prosperity.

"We cannot find security apart from the rest of the world," he told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"And in the long run, we can be neither prosperous nor safe if most other people live in equality."

Red Guns Blow Up Ammunition Supply

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 102 enemy troops in a northern frontier battle Sunday but enemy gunners blew up tons of ammunition at a U.S. Navy base just below the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

A spokesman said South Vietnamese casualties were light in the eight-hour fight with an estimated 600 Communist soldiers, the eighth major encounter since Feb. 29 for government troops below the DMZ. He said the South Vietnamese captured seven suspects and 25 weapons and that their casualties were only three killed and 37 wounded.

As the men of the 2nd South Vietnamese Infantry Regiment battled five miles north of Dong Ha, North Vietnamese gunners blasted the American naval supply and repair base at the mouth of the Cua Viet River, 15 miles south of the DMZ.

U.S. spokesmen said casualties at the naval complex were light, but they reported numerous fires and secondary explosions in stockpiles of ammunition and other war materiel.

Base Camp Hit
More artillery rounds, about 200 of them, landed on a South Vietnamese outpost 11 miles below.

For the third straight day, the Marines at besieged Khe Sanh received more than 250 rounds of rocket, artillery and mortar fire Sunday. U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light.

The Americans countered with fighter-bomber raids against North Vietnamese gun positions inside the DMZ, and B52 saturation bombing attacks

Senate Approves Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today approved a landmark civil rights bill designed to strike down racial barriers in four-fifths of the nation's housing.

The compromise measure, passed after nearly two months of debate, also embraces anti-riot provisions, federal protection for civil rights workers, and extended constitutional guarantees for American Indians.

The bill was sent back to the House, where its fate is in doubt.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., floor manager for the bill, praised fellow senators for backing the nation's first federal ban on housing discrimination despite mail running heavily against it.

Hart said he knew colleagues "who would have been politically more comfortable if the issue had crept away to a quiet death and yet who voted to keep it alive and flourishing."

"The Senate," he said, "responded not to the demands of expediency but to the demands of history."

Southern senators, who staged a seven-week filibuster against the bill before the debate was cut off on a fourth and final try, took the position that anti-riot and other amendments had made the compromise measure more palatable. There was no effort to forestall the final vote today.

The Senate had cleared the way for passage with a 61-19 vote Friday favoring the expanded compromise version. The House originally passed the bill last August as a limited measure dealing only with federal protection of minority groups' constitutional rights.

House leaders have indicated they may try to pass the Senate bill as it is rather than risk a possible stalemate by sending it to a Senate-House conference committee for adjustment of differences.

In 1966 the House passed a more limited open housing measure which was strangled to death in the Senate by a filibuster.

Now the situation is reversed and there is a question whether the House will accept the Senate bill.

Weekend Auto Crashes Kill 22

By The Associated Press

Twenty-two persons lost their lives in traffic accidents in Michigan over the weekend as warm, sunny weather Friday lured motorists onto the roads and rain and fog Saturday and Sunday obscured visibility and made roads slippery.

Two accidents claimed three lives each and two persons died as a result of a third. State Police at Lansing headquarters said the carnage set a record for the year for a weekend's toll.

The Associated Press count of fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Republican Leaders Press Rocky To Challenge Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 20 top Republicans, summoned to a strategy meeting with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at his Fifth Avenue apartment, have urged him strongly to become "an announced and active candidate" for the Republican presidential nomination.

A spokesman for the group that included seven governors, three U.S. senators, five congressmen and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, said Rockefeller would decide about plunging into the race after consulting with other party leaders in the next few days.

Rockefeller, who has maintained he would not be a candidate unless there was a draft, had no comment following Sunday's two-hour, closed-door strategy session.

Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon, one of those at the meeting, said he urged the New York governor to challenge former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the May 28 Oregon primary. Rockefeller has until March 22 to declare himself out of that election.

Almost Irresistible

McCall said Rockefeller's candidacy was "no longer an abstraction" following the meeting. Asked if he thought it constituted a draft, McCall replied: "Well, it's almost irresistible."

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania read a brief statement to newsmen that said there was "very strong sentiment" that Rockefeller get into the race as "an announced and active candidate." Asked if all those present had endorsed Rockefeller's candidacy, Scott said the statement spoke for itself.

A written statement was not given out, Scott read from notes, which he retained. The statement said Rockefeller "will consult other party leaders in the next few days and his decision will ultimately be made by himself."

Lindsay Approves

Lindsay said he believed everyone at the meeting subscribed to the statement and that he himself approved "100 per cent." It was the first known meeting between Lindsay and Rockefeller since they clashed over ways to end New York's recent garbage collectors strike.

The meeting came only two days before voting in the New Hampshire primary where Nixon is expected to collect a victory.

Nixon, who lives in the same building as Rockefeller, was not invited to the meeting.

Rockefeller aides said the meeting was called to discuss the state of the GOP since Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who was backed by Rockefeller, withdrew from the race, leaving Nixon the sole major contender in New Hampshire.

Romney Declines

Romney was invited but declined to attend, saying he does not engage in politics on Sunday.

Scott said the statement he read was subscribed to by Rep. John Dellenback of Oregon, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, Gov. John Chafee of Rhode Island, former GOP national chairman Meade A. Alcorn and former Rep. William D. Miller of New York. Barry Goldwater's running mate in the 1964 presidential election.

Miller, considered a conservative Republican, said he felt Rockefeller's candidacy was "vital for our party."

Oregon Convicts End Riot; Aging Warden Is Fired

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — A feeding the prisoners. All of the offices of the treatment officials, such as the chaplains, sociologist and counselors, were destroyed.

The prison hospital was severely damaged. The industrial plants, which provide vocational training, were destroyed.

The damages touched off speculation that a special session of the Oregon legislature would be needed to finance reconstruction.

As soon as the hostages were released, prison guards and state police forced all of the convicts into the recreation yard. They stayed there Sunday night, because making the cells livable will take at least until late today.

One of the guards who was held in the yard said, "It was the longest 17 hours of my life."

No Reprisals

Randall walked into the prison yard with several reporters to talk the prisoners into releasing their hostages.

He told the prisoners there would be no reprisals. "I've never led to a prisoner, and I'm too old to start lying now. We won't harm anyone," he said.

Randall agreed to fire warden C. T. Gladden, 73, who had served 15 years. Gladden, ill for six weeks, was not on duty during the riot.

The riot started, apparently without any advance planning, Saturday afternoon when a small group of convicts seized the control center, the nerve center for all operations inside the walls.

That gave them control of almost all of the prison. Most of the convicts soon joined in the riot.

Special Session Needed

By their burning, the prisoners destroyed all of the prison's rehabilitation facilities, more than half of the cells, and the means of preparing food and feeding the prisoners. All of the offices of the treatment officials, such as the chaplains, sociologist and counselors, were destroyed.

Copper Deadlock Break Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of the four companies involved in the eight-month copper strike reportedly have reached an understanding with 26 unions that may resolve a major roadblock to settlement.

The New York Times said today that official sources reported the understanding reached between Phelps Dodge, Kennecott and the unions would cover mines, smelters and refineries but not lead, zinc and fabrication operations.

The Times quoted official sources as cautioning against optimism that the understanding meant the strike which has idled some 60,000 workers would end soon.

But the report did indicate the two companies may have capitulated—if only partially—on the issue that has proved the main stumbling block in negotiations.

That is the union demand for companywide contracts covering all aspects of each company's far-flung, diversified operations, with common expiration dates.

The unions, whose members received an average $3.28 an hour when the strike started, have been seeking a three-year contract with a $1 an hour overall boost.

Other firms involved in White House-ordered talks in Washington are Anaconda and American Smelting & Refining. It is presumed any settlement agreed to by one or more of the firms likely would set the mold for agreements with the others.

U-M Idea Mart: Fleming

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Robben W. Fleming asserted today in his inaugural address as president of the University of Michigan that students should be taught to become "wise, tolerant, compassionate, civilized human beings."

"A university is not merely a knowledge factory," Fleming said. "It is rather one of the great humanizing influences of civilization."

Fleming, 53, ninth president of U. of M., said the incorporation of civilized values in teaching is the most important of three dreams he holds for the university.

Of next importance, he said in his prepared address, is "that we can preserve at Michigan the kind of climate in which controversy can flourish, and do so in an atmosphere of dignity and respect for others."

Robben W. Fleming

"This is a time when a great international issue—the war in Vietnam—and a great domestic issue—race relations—divide our people," said the former chancellor of the University of Wisconsin.

Fleming, who succeeded Harlan H. Hatcher as president, said "The university is...a marketplace of ideas, and as such, controversy neither can nor should be avoided." He called for such controversy to take place in a framework of dignity and restraint.

Fleming said his third hope is that the University of Michigan will continue to "play a useful and important role on the international scene."

Inaugural ceremonies for Fleming, estimated to have cost $25,000, included a luncheon for

Ruppe Asks U.P. Highway Parley

Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Houghton) has asked Gov. George Romney for a series of informal hearings in the Upper Peninsula to discuss the pressing highway needs for the area. Ruppe has asked the governor to request that the Upper Great Lakes Regional Development Commission conduct the informal hearings.

"Significant road development programs are currently under consideration for the Upper Peninsula," Ruppe stated. "It has occurred to me that the residents of the Upper Peninsula have not yet had ample opportunity to express their views about the various proposals."

Ruppe said that he hoped that the informal hearings would be held in several different locations throughout the Upper Peninsula. At each meeting, area residents and local officials would have the opportunity to voice opinion regarding the road program. In return, the Commission would then be able to present long-range highway goals.

"I firmly believe," Ruppe added, "that before any significant overall road plans can be adopted, local people, civic groups and organizations must be given ample opportunity to express their needs and preferences. While such informal hearings would in no way dictate the ultimate position of the Commission, I feel that they would serve to provide needed communication between the state and federal agencies and the residents of the Upper Peninsula."

Deer Advisors To Meet Mar. 23 At Shingleton

The District 3 Citizens Deer Committee will meet at 10 a.m. EST, Saturday, March 23 at the Cusino Wildlife Research Station at Shingleton to hear reports on how deer are faring in the district, composed of Marquette and Delta counties and the west half of Alger.

The committee of 25 has dropped off in membership through death and the moving away from Escanaba of Everett Dahlvik and disinterest of some members.

The committees were created throughout Michigan by the Conservation Department to counsel it on deer herd management. The committee voted 21 to 1 to meet again this year and this will be its first gathering.

Lou Verme, biologist at the station, will review the deer situation, deer nutrition, research, fawn production, disease, collaring, radio telemetry and cutting techniques and lead a tour to the Petrol Grade Deer Yard to view cuttings and deer use. Lunch will be served at the Shingleton Restaurant.

Wildlife Week Started By Ding

BY LEE SMITS

As National Wildlife Week looms up for the 31st year, what memories it brings to this old-timer. Memories centered about the personality of the man whose concept of conservation established the present direction of the movement. I am permanently proud to have been chosen by Ding Darling to help him in the undertaking that he launched and kept going.

Ding Darling was one of the most famous cartoonists of his era. He was a gifted writer, a dynamic speaker, and, above all, an inspired evangelist.

National Wildlife Week — to be held this year March 17 through March 23 — was Ding Darling's idea. He founded the National Wildlife Federation, sponsoring the week, and painted the first wildlife week stamps.

Ding Darling poured not only talent, time and energy in his crusade, he also enlisted richer men in the cause. A typical Darling project was a program of seminars, which he financed, for instructing grade-school teachers in basic ecology. Ding Darling believed that unless youngsters were grounded in conservation principles his big plan could not have lasting success.

National Wildlife Week comes as a reminder of just what conservation should mean. Michigan's Wildlife Week Chairman is James L. Goudreau, a long time resident of St. Ignace, now a Detroit. Jim Goudreau is president of Detroit Outdoorsmen.

Jim says, of the 1968 National Wildlife Week: "I am excited about this year's theme—Learn to Live with Nature — because I feel it will appeal to all age groups. The United States Soil Conservation Service has produced two booklets that are being used as teaching aids for this year's observance."

Thus their trails join — Ding Darling, founder of the National Wildlife Federation, and Jim Goudreau, chairman of Wildlife Week in Michigan. Jim Goudreau and his associates have taken as their slogan "learning to live with nature," and learning can't be started at too early an age.

Man Charged In Ring Theft

MARQUETTE — Stephen F. Tippet, 21, of Kingsford, has been charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of over $8,000 worth of high school class rings from a salesman's car in Marquette about six weeks ago.

Tippet appeared before Marquette Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski and demanded preliminary examination on the charge. Judge Dembowski set Monday, March 18 as the date for his examination.

Bond was set at $250 and Tippet was remanded to the Marquette County jail.

Officers said over 300 rings were taken from display cases in a salesman's car and dumped through a hole in the ice at Lake Antoine.

Detectives noted that all but four or five of the rings have been recovered.

The jewelry was stolen from the car of Douglas Houghton, of Appleton, Wis. He is employed by Herff-Jones Co., of Indianapolis, Ind.

According to police, the vehicle was stolen, rifled and then abandoned.

Two Injured In Traffic Mishaps; One In Hospital

Two persons were injured in separate accidents in Escanaba over the weekend, and were taken to St. Francis Hospital for treatment and released.

City police reported that John Seppanen Jr., 412 1st Ave. S., was hurt when his car was involved in a traffic mishap with another vehicle at 11th St. and 2nd Ave. N. at 12:21 a.m. Sunday. Seppanen was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.

The other car was driven by Mathew C. Ruotsala of Rock Rte. 1.

Rickey Smith, 9, of 318 N. 18th St., is reported in good condition at St. Francis Hospital today after he ran into the street and was struck by a car at 11:05 a.m. Sunday.

The car was driven by Joseph H. DuBord of Bark River Rte. 1. Officers said the boy apparently did not see the approaching car and that DuBord was unable to avoid the accident in the 300 block, Stephenson Ave.

Label Conservatives GOP Splinter Group

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — their more moderate in their opinions.

Michigan's conservative Republicans, who have watched their influence shrink with the rise of moderate Gov. George Romney, have served notice on the GOP that they want a greater voice in its affairs.

The more moderate Republicans, who firmly control the party's state machinery, say they doubt the conservatives will succeed.

About 200 conservatives met in Grand Rapids over the weekend to form the backbone of a state organization they dubbed United Republicans of Michigan—URM—and to put themselves on record on several state and national issues.

"Mainstream Republicanism," was how Richard Durant, 14th Congressional District chairman and head of the URM, described the new conservative group.

"A splinter group...the far edge of the party," retorted John B. Martin, Michigan's Republican national committeeman and a devoted Romney backer. Durant, one of the eight 48 national GOP convention delegates from Michigan who defected from Michigan who defected Romney in 1964 and voted for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, said conservatives speak for most of the Michigan GOP.

He said only about a third would classify themselves as conservative, but added that 75 to 80 per cent would agree with the self-styled conservatives on the issues.

"I would just reverse those figures," Martin said in an interview Sunday. "Most people like to think of themselves as conservative, but most are rational."

Welcome: Bethlehem

Bethlehem Steel Corp. is an old friend of the Upper Peninsula. It has been a local industry for many years in iron mining and continues its association with Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. in the operation of the big Mather Mine on the Marquette Range, which has pioneered the beneficiation and pelletizing of ore from an underground mine — the Mather. (The Upper Peninsula's ventures in iron ore concentration and agglomeration had been in lean ores from surface mines until the successful experimentation at the Mather.)

Now Bethlehem has enlarged its interest and investment in the Upper Peninsula by the acquisition of ownership or quarrying rights on 12,000 acres of lands bearing commercial quality limestones and dolomite in western Mackinac County and eastern Schoolcraft County. The acquisitions came after several years of exploratory drilling in the area to define the deposits and analyze their composition.

Bethlehem says it has no immediate plans for development of the property, but its huge investment in steelmaking facilities at Burns Harbor, Indiana imply the future use of Pt. Patterson flux stone in the furnaces that Bethlehem is building at its new Indiana complex at the foot of Lake Michigan.

This is America's newest steel plant and it is now in a second phase of development which will cost $500 million. The first phase of construction cost $400 million. Plates are now rolled at Burns Harbor from slabs shipped from other Bethlehem steel mills in the East but with completion of its plant at Burns Harbor, Bethlehem will have a fully integrated operation with ultra-modern technology.

The plant, now 5 years along in its building program on a 3,300 acre tract 35 miles east of Chicago, will have the largest blast furnace in the Western Hemisphere, with an innovation of conveyor belt charging. The basic oxygen furnaces will pour ingots much larger than those currently produced normally.

Upper Peninsula association with such enormous industrial expansion would be good news under any circumstances, but it is especially fortuitous in this case because it supports further growth of the basic industry of steelmaking in the Midwest, and most particularly in the South Chicago area. This is an industrial reorientation of steelmaking from the East which is very meaningful to the Midwest's hopes for industrial growth.

Escanaba, with its only iron ore port on Lake Michigan, and the stone ports of the eastern Upper Peninsula are vitally interested and concerned with the growing steel industry at the foot of Lake Michigan. It is only 19 hours by lake carrier from Inland Line & Stone Co.'s quarry at Port Inland near Gulliver to Inland's steel mill at East Chicago, Indiana. Bethlehem's projected new quarry will be next door to Inland's. Those of Drummond Dolomite and U. S. Steel Corp. are farther to the east.

There is a proper concern about the longevity of mineral industries, because they eventually exhaust their supplies, but Bethlehem's acquisitions at Pt. Patterson give it a great expectancy of industrial life there. Inland Steel has 12,000 acres in its limestone holdings there too. It has been quarrying for 38 years and its operations to date cover only one square mile. That's only 640 acres.

Nature's great gift of non-metallic minerals to the eastern Upper Peninsula is having its value recognized as her metallic gifts to the western Upper Peninsula long have been.

A Free Press Has Certain Obligations

By LEON DENNEN
NEW YORK (NEA)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk was clearly an angry man when he told a group of newsmen that criticism of the way the Johnson administration handles the war in Vietnam sometimes gets to the point "when the question is, on whose side are you?"

The secretary even implied that some newsmen "go probing for things that one can bitch about when there are 2,000 stories that are more constructive in character."

He ignored the dedication, heartbreaks and frequent heroism of the vast majority of American correspondents who often risk their lives to dig for facts and bring the news to their readers.

Nevertheless, Rusk raised an important question about the role of a free press and other mass communication media that needs to be examined constantly and debated in a free society, especially in time of national crisis.

Throughout the ages, freedom of information has been a thorn in the side of tyrants, dictators and unscrupulous politicians.

In democratic society the existence of a free press is one inflexible touchstone of the claims of any nation to be free. A democratic nation needs news "for the same reason that a man needs eyes." Rebecca West once said, "It has to see where it is going."

Several thousand years ago the Hebrew prophet said, "Truth abideth and is strong forever; she liveth and conquers for everyone."

As human society evolved and developed social and political consciousness, freedom of information became the indispensable weapon in the struggle against tyranny and arbitrary authority. Today only Communists and dictators question humanity's right to know the essential facts that determine its fate—man's life.

But a free press in a democratic nation also has its obligations. It has the responsibility to report facts carefully, sea creatures on their backs.

weigh their significance and explain them as objectively as it is humanly possible.

Surely it was sloppy journalism to report, as one American magazine correspondent recently did, that "Not a single Vietnamese I have met either in Saigon or the (Mekong) Delta blames the Viet Cong for the massacre of the civilian population."

Is it possible that the correspondent did not dig deeply enough and thus gave a distorted account of the true feelings of the South Vietnamese.

According to Dr. Simon Arujo, reports that most South Vietnamese favor the Viet Cong Communists and dislike Americans "are not even half-truths."

The doctor from Venezuela has been in charge for many months of a dispensary near the Cambodian border established by the International Rescue Committee. He is in daily contact with dozens of sick or wounded Vietnamese men, women and children.

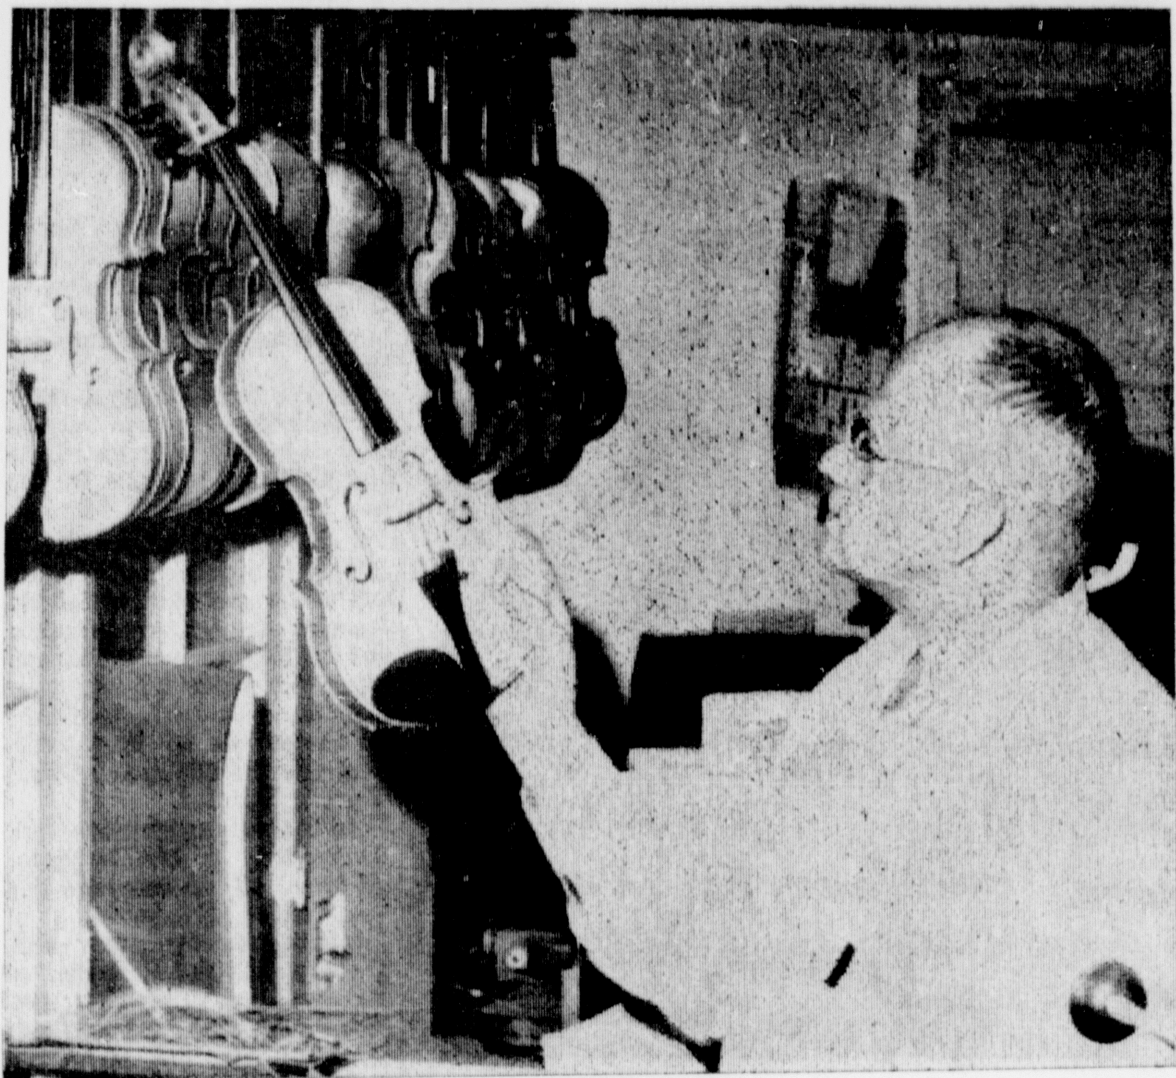

Dr. Araujo asserts, "If the ordinary Vietnamese had to choose between surrender to the Communists and continuing their fight for freedom and independence they would choose to fight."

The South Vietnamese officials acted in a primitive manner when they banned the news magazine that printed the half-baked report. They still have to learn that censorship of any kind is self-defeating.

In a partisan world it is foolish to expect that the reporter alone should be nonpartisan.

But competent newsmen—and this is true of the majority of American correspondents—always do guard themselves against exaggerations that are likely to distort the truth. They make their own fair contribution to that continuing debate that is the heart of the democratic system which is served best when officials and others "keep their cool."

To avoid detection, spider crabs pile seaweed and small sea creatures on their backs.

RALPH DE GAYNER, violin maker, repairer-player, inspects one of 60 instruments he's made during a life crowded with music, travel, bird painting and amateur photography. The U. P. native maintains a repair shop in Wausau, Wis., but prefers the quiet setting of his Silver Lake workshop-home.

Visit To Violin Maker Means Concert And Talk

By ANTHONY HAYNES
Of Panax Newspapers
SILVER LAKE — Just suppose one of your more expressive friends throws a small gourd across your living room striking your wife's violin/cello and cracking it. Where do you go to repair the instrument?

Chicago? New York? Vienna? Nope.

You go to Silver Lake, Mich., between Floodwood and Channing, on M-95, the Leif Ericson Highway.

Garish Yellow Sign
Just after you pass the lake, look east and, in a clump of birch, you see a sign — Violins Unlimited — then two native stone pillars and an uphill driveway to the home-workshop-office of Ralph de Gayner.

If it's evening, and if you've told de Gayner you're coming, the sign will be lit — a garish yellow — and as you pull around to the workshop the odds are your headlights will catch a deer or two in the de Gayner apple orchard.

Ralph de Gayner, Iron Mountain-born some 50 years ago, will usually meet you at the door.

Fond Of Conservation
And that's your first clue as to what the small, nearly bald, steel-rimmed spectacled violin repairman, violin maker, violin appraiser and bird painter, hi-fi system "engineer," archaeologist, amateur photographer and traveler, is all about.

Each visit will usually mean about three hours of conversation.

He'll begin by talking about the crack in the cello. Then he'll detail the whys and wherefores of a cello's construction. Then into violins and a pet peeve — the people who find great-grandfather's old violin in an attic and bring it to him convinced it was built by "one of the masters." Stradivari say, and worth at least $10,000.

'Collector's Items'
The Silver Lake violin maker tells stories about phony "collector's items," noting that it is especially easy, since invention of the printing press, to forge and age a label with any violin maker's name on it.

Then de Gayner will shatter the myth that the Great Masters' violins were great because of a "secret varnish" they finished their works with.

These are my notes from that time in his words: "We'd get our orders from Hanoi—usually six to nine months in advance. We never took on a major operation in less than three months.

"Our first step was to set up models of our objectives. First we'd lay out a sand table—run through the operation time and again.

"Then, in some safe area in the countryside, we'd simulate an attack with our men. In this area we would draw out or mark out crudely but accurately the city, military installations, police stations, homes and offices of key officials, military officers, policemen, businessmen, teachers and other leading people.

"The scale would be as large as possible. The buildings would be marks on the ground—or a friendly village would be used and ordinary houses used to simulate the objectives. Each simulated building would be in its proper relative location as nearly as we could manage.

"We would also locate where each man we wanted to reach would be at the time of our secret terrorist attack. We would also determine where his family would be.

"Our intelligence men would have detailed each man's schedule—when possible—and provided photographs.

"During the same six to nine months our transporters would have been carrying in weapons one by one into the cities or near the enemy military installations and carrying in ammunition in small loads.

"Usually these men and the operation would begin."

"The weapons would be well-greased, the ammunition carefully packed against dirt, water or other spoilage.

"Once in the city, the weapons and ammunition would usually be buried in varied places, either near a target objective or in some withdrawal position where we might have to fight it out.

"The carriers would bury the weapons and ammunition in almost any location—graveyards, the back yards of co-operating families, in a thicket or any other available piece of land. These carriers would all be expendables.

It was the same varnish that is found on furniture of the same period (around 1525-1785), he contends.

Made 60 Violins
Then you'll see and hear a hi-fi-tape system he invented and, if you're lucky on the first visit, he'll pick up his violin (or fiddle — there's no difference, he says) and accompany a taped symphony for you.

And to me, raised in an era of the hard rock electric guitar, he sounds good, despite his apologies and the arthritis that has messed up his fingers somewhat.

On subsequent visits, you'll learn more about this interesting man, who has made about 60 violins since he began experimenting with old ones given to him as a child in Iron Mountain.

You'll learn that the best wood for a stringed instrument comes from a certain soft maple and spruce found only in the lower Alps, and that it's five or 10 years before he's satisfied with the sound of an "Original de Gayner."

Conducted Orchestra
You'll learn he repairs hundreds of string instruments for high school and college orchestras around the northern Midwest and that he laments the general lack of support for string programs in this area's schools.

You'll learn that at 17 or 18 he was in Milwaukee conducting a "light classical" orchestra and that he's played his own violin with some of the best.

You'll learn that he's traveled throughout America and digs the peace and beauty of Dickinson County, although its winters are finally getting to him, and that the climate and Indian lore of New Mexico have led him to purchase a homestead there.

"I'll be back here summers, though," he hastens to assure his visitor, "Stop and see me."

I intend to, if only to see what new hobbies the Silver Lake fiddle maker poked up over the winter.

Oswald: "While match point duplicate is not exactly the same game as rubber bridge, there is no question that you can learn a lot about rubber bridge by playing duplicate."

Jim: "Of course. When you make mistakes at rubber bridge, you laugh them off if you happen to be winning and complain about bad luck if you happen to be losing. In duplicate, your mistakes show up as bad scores and you try to avoid them in the future."

Oswald: "One thing any bridge player should learn is that the takeout double with a balanced hand is likely to be a losing proposition. Our recommendation for duplicate or rubber bridge is that you make a takeout double with 4-3-3-3 distribution only if your hand is very powerful, while you can make a takeout double with a singleton in your opponent's bid suit with as little as 10 or 11 high card points."

Jim: "At most tables in the recent Dallas Regional tournament, West was allowed to play at one spade. He always made his contract. In fact, a couple of West players managed to make an overtrick, but the top East-West scores came when North chose to double for takeout and South played in two hearts."

Oswald: "Most South players went down two tricks. One managed to go down three. West opened his singleton diamond. South played dummy's queen, East won the king and led a spade. West cashed his jack and ace of spades and gave East a ruff. East led back the jack of diamonds and West discarded a spade instead of ruffing. South had to go after the club suit eventually and misguessed the jack to wind up losing two spades, the ace of trumps, a spade ruff, two diamonds and two clubs."

Jim: "Actually, once the diamond was opened, it didn't make any real difference what South did. He would be down two or three tricks in any event."

Wilma Has Wrinkle That Needs Ironing

Dear Ann Landers: My wife sorry for him. And you should, works in an office and I work too, in a plant. We used to take the same bus to and from town and it worked out fine.

A few months ago Wilma's boss decided to stagger the quitting time so there wouldn't be a crush at 5:00, and now she takes an earlier bus. She is always home when I get there. Last night I left work 20 minutes early because I had a bad backache. When the bus stopped at Wilma's corner she boarded with a good looking, well-built guy. They seemed to be having a great time, laughing and joking. When Wilma saw me she got red in the face and introduced me. I recognized the plaid shirt he was wearing because I had ironed it.

Wilma has been bringing home this fellow's shirts for months—said they belonged to some orphan kid she wanted to help out. Wilma does all the washing in the family and I do the ironing because I was a presser in the Navy.

When we got home I got mad and told her I wasn't ironing any more of the "orphan's" shirts. She called me a jealous fool and acted highly insulted. What do you make of this? — MANNY

Dear Manny: Just when I think I've heard everything I get a letter like yours. This is indeed a new wrinkle — one that Wilma ought to iron out.

She sounds like a big-hearted girl, but I think in the interest of peace and tranquility the "orphan" should consider drip-dry shirts or carry his laundry to a commercial place.

Dear Ann Landers: A member of our family must take several pills before and after meals. This man is educated and refined. He insists that other members of the family adhere strictly to certain rules of etiquette, yet he brings his medicine to the table, lines up the bottles and make a production of popping the pills into his mouth and swallowing several gulps of water to "wash things down."

Don't you feel that taking medicine is a personal matter and should be done in private? Why would a person want an audience? May we hear from you? — BELOW THE SALT

Dear B: A person who has to bring his medicine to the table and doctor himself in full view of the family is obviously desperate for attention. I feel

Tax Free Bonds Called Subsidy

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — After more than a year of study, the Johnson administration has started down the road to tax reform in its plan to eliminate the exemption for state and local industrial development bonds.

Before the total job is completed, the nation's entire tax structure is likely to come under congressional scrutiny, including the controversial 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance. Although the administration has yet to unveil its long-promised tax reform package, the Treasury Department has decided to move on its own to end what it considers an abuse of tax exempt development bonds issued in the name of states and localities.

DDT Buildup Fight Ordered

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission Friday adopted a resolution directing the department to take all possible measures to fight the pesticide buildup in Lake Michigan.

Heavy concentrations of the chemical DDT, often used as a spray against insects, is blamed for high losses among young Coho salmon hatched from fish that grew to maturity in the lake.

The pesticide threat, the resolution said, may be a serious obstacle to the reproduction of Coho salmon and other salmonid species in the lake.

"We hope for some kind of action from the federal government," Director Ralph MacMullan told the commission.

"We need to shake up some people," agreed Commissioner August "Gus" Scholle, state AFL-CIO director.

The department plans to present the pesticide problem to the next meeting of the Great Lakes Basin Commission.

The Treasury can eliminate the exemption by administrative action because the bonds were originally declared tax exempt by a 1954 Treasury ruling.

Treasury officials said they are doing hard-pressed state and local taxpayers a favor by moving now.

State Asks Action
Industrial development bonds issued in the name of a local government—at least $1.4 billion worth were issued last year—compete with regular municipal bonds and thus drive up their cost, the treasury said.

And when a local or state government

Delta Bonds

The Escanaba Area is vitally interested in the current move in federal government for tax reform because industrial revenue bonds like those authorized by the State of Michigan would be the first thing affected.

Cornell Township is in the process of authorizing $56 million of such bonds to finance Phase 1 of a three phase enlargement of the Escanaba Paper Co.'s mill at Groos.

The City of Escanaba is in process of authorizing $16 million of such bonds to finance the Chicago & North Western Railway ore terminal here.

ement must pay a higher interest rate, the result is higher property taxes, sales taxes and state income taxes.

The effort to push through this reform—which many states have requested—could be the easiest faced by the Treasury in the long list of reforms to be unveiled. They reportedly will be made known after Congress begins to act on the 10 per cent income tax surcharge proposal.

The administration wants to keep the surcharge and tax reform package separate. Tax reform legislation is expected to take at least a year to move through Congress after it's submitted.

Eye Foundations

The over-all reform program is expected to cover charitable foundations, estate and gift taxes, multiple exemptions enjoyed by some corporations and perhaps a minimum tax for the very rich who are able to avoid taxes through large charitable deductions and depreciation.

No change in the 27½ per cent oil depletion rate is expected to be recommended by the White House but some members of Congress have said they will try to lower it.

The industrial development bond was designed originally for use by areas of high unemployment to attract job-producing industries. But in recent years companies have threatened to take their business elsewhere if they didn't get the cost-saving advantage of an industrial development bond signed by a local government, officials said.

40 States Do It

More than 40 states now authorize use of tax-free bonds, some of them simply to prevent industry from moving elsewhere.

North Carolina only recently authorized their use—but at the same time asked the Treasury to eliminate the tax exemption altogether.

When the tax exemption was granted, the Treasury defined an industrial development bond as the obligation of a state or local government, thus providing a tax exemption on the interest.

Now the Treasury plans to repeal this definition on bonds issued after March 15.

Race Relations Trouble British

LONDON (AP) — New political trouble over race relations lies ahead when the British government introduces a bill to bar discrimination in jobs and housing.

Officials hope the measure will demonstrate to members of the British Commonwealth, India especially, that Britain is not developing into a society infected with racial discrimination.

Home Secretary James Callaghan is caught between public feeling against Britain's non-white immigrants and various community and national race relations groups rushing to their defense.

Advocates of a keep-Britain-white policy, centered mainly in the suburban middle class and among workers who feel their jobs threatened, tasted success when Britain barred admission of many Asians from Kenya who hold British passports.

Many of the labor party's intellectual supporters feel the proposed antidiscrimination bill is not strong enough, especially in provisions covering employment.

Fire In Packing Crate Kills Boys

HART (AP) — Two Hart boys died in a fire which destroyed the packing crate in which they were playing, and police said they believed the boys were playing with matches. Killed in the fire Saturday night were Ricky Viterna, 9, and John Thompson, 8. Hart firemen found their bodies in the charred remains of the crate where they had been playing behind a factory.

Nasser Refuses Peace Meetings

JERUSALEM (AP) — Diplomats say U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring's efforts to set up Middle East peace talks appear to have broken down. Egypt and Israel accused each other of blocking a settlement.

Jarring told Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban Sunday that President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government had refused to meet with Israeli officials directly or indirectly.

Diplomatic informants in Jerusalem said Egypt had reverted to the hard line of no peace talks until after Israel pulls out of Arab lands it occupied in the June war.

Government circles here said Israel is ready to comply with any attempt by Jarring to bring the two sides together but will not give any advance pledge to give up the occupied territories.

Various sources reported late in February that Jarring was on the verge of obtaining Egyptian and Jordanian agreement to hold indirect negotiations with Israel. Then on Feb. 29 the Israeli government announced that the west bank of the Jordan River, which Israel seized from Jordan in June, was no longer considered enemy territory.

Cairo took this as an indication that the Israelis would not give up the occupied territories, and the Egyptian line hardened again. Israeli officials denied the implications which Cairo had drawn but conceded their government's timing was bad.

The semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram said Sunday that Egypt rejected the proposed talks because Israel insisted that the Middle East resolution passed by the U.N. Security Council last November was "merely an agenda for negotiations with the Arabs."

The paper said the resolution was one of "definite measures" to be taken, beginning with Israeli withdrawal from territory of Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Al-Ahram said Foreign Ministry officials had explained Egypt's position to the ambassadors of the Soviet Union, Britain, France, Spain, India, Italy and Pakistan.

Violence flared again Sunday night in the Beisan Valley on the west bank of the Jordan. Three Arab saboteurs were killed in a running gun battle with Israeli troops as the Arabs fled toward the river.

Bakers Denied Change Of Plea On Price Fixing

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—U.S. District Judge Noel P. Fox rejected Friday a motion to change a plea of innocent to no contest by three national baking companies and three executives accused of fixing prices and rigging bids on baked goods sold in Michigan.

He reserved judgment on eight other companies and eight executives who made a similar request. The firms agreed to supply information regarding their financial status.

The defendants were among 26 charged with violation of antitrust laws.

Fox refused to accept a motion to change pleas from American Bakeries Co., Chicago, Ill., and Normal V. Claxton, regional manager; Continental Baking Co., Rye, N. Y., and Ray W. Moore, plant manager; and Ward Foods Inc., New York City, and William J. Coughlin, plant manager.

Drop Coyote Bounties, MUCC Delegates Urge

Delegates of Upper Peninsula conservation clubs—taking what one conservation official termed a “refreshing outlook” at conservation issues—urged elimination of bounties on coyotes Sunday at a regional meeting of Michigan United Conservation Clubs at the Pioneer Motor Inn.

The resolution will be presented along with 18 others from the region to the state MUCC convention June 27-30 at Sault Ste. Marie.

“I think that it was significant that the Upper Peninsula delegates placed the accent on the broad picture, rather than on specific local problems,” said Joseph Vogt, Escanaba district game biologist for the Conservation Dept.

No Evidence

He said this was a “refreshing change” from some past meetings where delegates bogged down over local problems.

The coyote resolution pointed out that Michigan annually spends about $55,000 to pay bounties and administrative expenses and that there is no evidence that paying bounties has reduced the coyote population.

It also pointed out that since 1935 the cost to the state has been $1.6 million.

Jack Sisson of the Delta County Sportsman's Club and a vice president in the MUCC presided over the 4½-hour meeting. Also attending the program were Howard Rainer, Lansing, MUCC field representative, and Dr. Fred Brown, Midland, and Louis Michalski, Detroit, MUCC vice presidents.

Ask New License

Four new clubs from Les Cheneaux, Menominee, Ironwood Township and Iron County were recognized as members of the association.

Besides the coyote bounty resolution, delegates approved resolutions calling for elimination of water pollution by the City of Escanaba in Portage Creek and by Mead Corp. in the Escanaba River; backed Senate Bill 404 which would give the Conservation Commission authority to limit commercial fishing participation and set harvest limits; supported a Michigan “Sportsman's big game, small game, trapping and fishing all under a single licence, and urged passage of a law requiring all youths under age of 17 to have a certificate of “hunting competency” before being allowed to hunt.

Perch Limit

The delegates also urged the fish division of the Conservation Dept. to investigate the “feasibility” of establishing a limit of 25 on perch fishing during the spawning season in the upper reaches of Little Bay de Noc.

The Delta County Sportsman's Club asked the investigation because of the declining perch population in the bay, suggesting that a daily limit on spawning perch might improve the spawning success.

Currently, there is no limit on perch.

A resolution from the Iron County Sportsman's Club asking that the Conservation Dept. begin work to improve inland lakes in the Upper Peninsula by restocking fish also was approved.

Iron County delegates said that considerable numbers of tourist fishermen are being lost to Wisconsin.

City Hoping To Beat Industrial Bond Tax Date

The processing of a $16.5 million industrial bonding program by the City of Escanaba to aid the Chicago & North Western Railway in its financing of a new ore terminal facility here will be expedited in an effort to complete the bonding before the Friday, March 15, industrial bond federal tax deadline.

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey today said that he has conferred with Stratton Brown, attorney with Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, bonding firm of Detroit, regarding the city's situation.

“We are hoping for a special meeting of the Council on Wednesday when we can process the necessary papers to get our industrial bonding for the North Western under the deadline of March 15,” he said.

The Council will be required to adopt certain resolutions including the naming of the bond issue, approval of the sale of the bonds, the leasing of the North Western properties which serve as securities, and other actions.

Wayne Airport In Strike Peril

DETROIT (AP)—Union and city officials today awaited a Tuesday decision on a contract to determine whether Wayne County employees would shut down city agencies, including Metropolitan Airport.

William J. Charron, president of Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees AFL-CIO, warned that the strike could take place.

He said Saturday it will begin unless the Ways and Means Committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors approves a proposed contract Tuesday.

The contract would cover 6,000 county workers, including those employed by the Wayne County Sewer and Water Department, the county clerk and treasurer's office, the child development center and other governmental agencies.

Confer On Rates

Escanaba's City Council, which set a tentative date of Wednesday for a meeting with representatives of the Hanna Mining Co. and the North Western Railway, may not be asked to confer on the dispute between the industries on ore terminal construction here.

The Chicago & North Western seeks to have the city join in its petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission opposing the Hanna plan to haul ore to Escanaba and load it from a dock Hanna said it will build at Wells.

The North Western and Hanna are now negotiating on ore haul rates and if an agreement is reached, Hanna may not advance its plans for handling its own ore, but continue with the North Western.

If agreement is reached, or rate negotiations are continuing, the Wednesday meeting may not be held.

There is no cost to the people of a governmental unit sponsoring the industrial bonds.

The Northern Western Railway is to construct a new ore terminal facility, including a conveyor type dock, which is scheduled to be in operation by the spring of 1969.

The City of Escanaba has cooperated in the project with land sales and in sponsoring the industrial revenue bonding, which is now under the wire and hoped to be completed in advance of the Secretary of the Treasury's effective date on his ruling that such bonds are not exempt from federal tax.

GOP Leaders Urge Rocky To Challenge Nixon suburban Tarrytown, newsmen swarmed around him and asked if he might announce his candidacy following the meeting.

“No no,” he said. But he also said: “I'm ready and willing to serve if the people want it.”

It was anticipated that if Rockefeller did decide to become a candidate there would be no announcement until after Friday, the closing day for entering the Nebraska primary. Nebraska is considered firmly in the Nixon camp.

U.S. Willing To Meet Reds' Top Conditions

or if violence consumes the world around us.”

Rusk prepared for today's appearance before the committee expecting that he would spend hours responding to questions about the critical state of the war in Vietnam.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, is one of the most outspoken Senate critics of the Vietnam war policy, and many members of the committee also have opposed current policies.

Prepared For Critics

The committee has been trying for weeks to get Rusk before it for public questioning about the war. And his appearance comes amid reports that President Johnson is considering an increase of up to 200,000 men above the 525,000 already authorized for Vietnam.

But Rusk was appearing officially to urge support of the foreign aid program, and he made only a brief indirect reference to the Vietnam war.

“Some say we should postpone or eliminate foreign aid because of the cost of our efforts to help defend freedom in Southeast Asia,” he said. “But the freedom and progress of hundreds of millions of other Asians, the 250 million people in Latin America, and the 250 million people in Africa also engage our concern and are directly related to our own security and well-being.”

Build Safe World

“I find it hard to accept assertions that we cannot afford to devote a fraction of one per cent of our GNP (gross national product) to building a safer and more prosperous world by helping other nations to make peaceful progress.”

Rusk said that in many countries needing help, economic development has been speeding up.

“If that momentum is reversed, the consequences for our prosperity and the peace of the world could be disastrous,” he said.

He said the foreign aid program last year had been cut below the “minimum level necessary to sustain that momentum,” and he urged the committee to recommend to the Senate all the funds asked by President Johnson.

Assist Not Buy

Johnson has asked for $2.5 billion in economic aid and $420 million for giving military assistance to other countries—apart from the U.S. participation in the war in Vietnam.

“The purpose of our assistance to the developing countries is not to buy friends, it is to help building free nations,” Rusk said.

“Today, most of the developing countries have moderate leaders committed to peaceful progress,” he added. “Governments committed to orderly economic and social progress have been successful in suppressing or fending off the promoters of violent revolution. But moderate leaders who believe in peaceful progress cannot be expected to endure unless they produce results.”

Gold Rush Cools In London Today

LONDON (AP)—The rush to buy gold dropped sharply in London today but continued in full strength in Continental bullion markets despite the central bank commitment to defend the present $35 an ounce price.

Sales in Paris set a high for this year of eight tons, twice as much as Friday. In Zurich, demand duplicated Friday's high level.

But in London sales were estimated at less than 10 tons, compared with more than 75 tons Friday.

One Zurich banker said the gold pool's announcement “does not seem to have had the desired effect, as far as we can judge at this time.”

The pound jumped to $2.3980 on the London foreign exchange market, after closing Friday at $2.39225, its lowest level.

At the daily gold fixing in London, at which representatives of the major dealers balance the demand for gold against the supply and set the price, turnover of less than 10 tons was anticipated.

Dealers said that despite the drop in demand for gold, there was no active selling by speculators who have built up hoards of the metal since the devaluation of the pound in November.

Dollar Improves

The consensus among London dealers was that the gold pool's action was sufficient to halt speculators but was not far-reaching enough to shake out sellers yet.

Frankfurt banks reported the demand for gold there had subsided but pointed out that Monday is normally a quiet day for gold trading.

“We expect to get a better idea of the trend at midweek,” a spokesman for one leading German bank said.

The Frankfurt dealers reported both the U.S. dollar and the pound showed slight improvement.

Heavy demand for gold hit the Paris market, setting a record for the year.

Eight tons of one kilogram ingots exchanged hands—twice as many as on Friday. Twenty thousand Napoleon coins and 90 12.5 kilogram bars also were sold.

The over-all record was set last Dec. 15 when 14 tons of ingots and bars were sold.

Volume today was $12,805,000, compared with $5,030,240 on Friday.

Prices edged upward, with the kilo going for 5,600 francs, $1,120 compared with $1,119, Friday.

The gold barometer of confidence in the dollar has been showing storm signals since March 1. Last Friday the demand on the London market reached panic proportions, 60 to 80 tons. Normally only 4 to 6 tons are traded in a day.

Pool Holds Price

Leading bullion dealers said Sunday night the statement by the United States and the other six members of the international gold pool should restore calm, although it might take a day or so.

Issued after a private meeting at the Bank for International Settlements in Basel, Switzerland, a communique reaffirmed the determination of the seven governments to continue selling gold at $35 an ounce. The members of the pool are the United States, Britain, Italy, Belgium, West Germany, the Netherlands and Switzerland. They meet demand from their reserves when no newly mined gold is available from South Africa.

Five Children Perish In Fire

DETROIT (AP)—Five children in one family perished as fire struck their frame house today on Detroit's near East Side.

The children's mother, Edna Ford, the only other occupant in the house, escaped without injury.

Killed were Anthony Ford, 3; Jerome Ford, 7, and three children by a previous marriage, Henrietta Williams, 8; Deborah Williams, 9, and Dennis Williams, 11.

Mrs. Ford told firemen she was awakened by Henrietta while sleeping in a chair. Flames had burst out in another chair which had been covered with a plastic material.

The mother said she tried in vain to put out the blaze, the children ran in panic upstairs in the two-story house and she ran across the street to seek help.

Firefighters from a fire station only two blocks away found the house an inferno, with flames shooting out of the windows.

Product Of Year Contest Open

Search is on for Michigan's product of the year, and counties have until April 13 to pick their winners for entry in regional competition, state Michigan Week awards chairman John Calkins announces.

Regional contests will be completed April 26. The state winner will be chosen during Michigan Week May 19-25 at Detroit. This will be the 15th Michigan Week and the 10th in which the state has picked a product of the year.

Any consumer product manufactured in Michigan is eligible so long as it is relatively new, possesses demonstrated sales potential and shows promise of bringing economic gain to its section of the state.

Calkins, who is chief deputy director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, urges manufacturers and others to contact local Michigan Week chairmen immediately about possible entries. There are no entry forms to be filled out. Each county Michigan Week organization beats the bushes for entries and conducts a contest to pick the county's product of the year. The search for entries and the contest arrangements are in the hands of a county awards committee.

Delta County co-chairmen of the product of the year committee are Leo Alperovitz and Joseph L. Heiman. Delta's farm product of the year nominations will include the cheese of the Rapid River Cheese Factory, a consistent winner of honors at the Michigan State Fair.

Counties will keep their contests open for entries until April 8 and finish judging by April 13.

Regional contests remain open until April 22 and finish their judging by April 26.

and a half tonners and one was three quarters of a ton, the spokesmen said.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland activated the new military command for South Vietnam's northernmost provinces where the Communist forces along the frontier had grown to five divisions, or about 50,000 troops.

“Their forces are formidable,” Westmoreland said. “We intend to confront them.”

The Communist leadership considers Thua Thien and Quang Tri provinces part of North Vietnam. I anticipate more very heavy fighting.”

Khe Sanh, the isolated Marine base in Khe Sanh's northwest corner, is in Quang Tri, and Hue, where the Communists held out for nearly a month of fierce fighting during the February lunar new year offensive, is in Thua Thien.

May Attack Hue

Until the February offensive, Khe Sanh had been considered the likeliest target for a big Red drive, but recently one of the top U.S. officers in Vietnam said he now thought Hue would be the next objective.

This idea was echoed today by Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman, commander of the U.S. Marines in Vietnam, and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Cushman who is in overall command of the five northernmost provinces, said the Communist troops around Khe Sanh “have not felt capable of winning there so they have not attacked. But they are not going to attack.”

Cushman added the enemy also was capable of attacking Hue, but “we can prevent this.”

Ky told newsmen in Saigon he expects the next Communist thrusts to be against Hue and Saigon and because of the capital's political significance, “Saigon will be the decisive battle.”

“Khe Sanh is not all that important,” he said. “Some of the foreign press make it a big thing, but really it is nothing.”

Man Burned In Freak Accident

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A freak accident put a 54-year-old Douglas man in critical condition today in a Grand Rapids hospital with second and third degree burns. The man, Earl Anderson, was working on his car when gasoline ran onto his clothes. He apparently dropped an extension light he was using, shattering the bulb, which in turn ignited his clothing.

Mrs. Kennedy Vacationing In Mexico

PALENQUE, Mexico (AP) — Under a waning moon, Mrs. John F. Kennedy gazed at the ancient Mayan temples of Palenque Sunday night and said: "This is simply magnificent."

Clad in silk slacks and blouse, Mrs. Kennedy and 10 companions rode horseback to the ruins, which include some of the finest examples of Mayan architecture.

Mrs. Kennedy said she believed the Mayan group was more impressive than the famed temples of Cambodia which she visited last year.

About 500 miles westward, President Johnson's elder daughter, Lynda Bird, and her husband, Capt. Charles F. Robb, spent Sunday fishing and swimming off Acapulco. The couple cruised aboard the private yacht of former President Miguel Aleman. They are vacationing before Robb leaves for Vietnam.

Mrs. Kennedy arrived Friday for a week of visiting ancient Mexican cities on the Yucatan Peninsula. With her are former Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell Gilpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Joao Roberto Sampaio Hafers of Santos, Brazil, and the secret service man.

Corned Beef Tarts For March 17th

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Young people like foods that can be eaten without sitting down or requiring utensils. That's why party foods should be the kind you pick up, eat and return for more. Such as, for example, these St. Paddy corned beef tarts for St. Patrick's Day celebration.

St. Paddy Pats
8 cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ cup corn oil
4½ tablespoons cold water

Mix flour and salt in mixing bowl. Blend in corn oil with a fork. Sprinkle all water on top; mix well. Press firmly into ball with hands. If dough is slightly dry, mix in one to two tablespoons more corn oil. Wipe tabletop with damp cloth and place on it a piece of aluminum foil 12 inches square. Divide pastry in half and work with half at a time. Place half of dough on foil. Flatten slightly, cover with waxed paper and roll out with rolling pin to cover foil completely. With knife, mark off 25 (2¼-inch) squares. Cut through dough and foil with scissors. Turn up sides and pinch corners to form a 1¼-inch square shell ½-inch deep. Fill shells and place on baking sheet. Bake in 450 - degree (hot) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until the pastries are lightly browned around edges. Top each pat with a dab of chili sauce while hot, if you like. Makes 25 tarts.

Filling
Mix 1 (15½-oz.) can corned beef hash with ½-envelope of golden onion soup mix. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons water, as necessary, to adjust consistency. Fill shells, mounding them slightly.

Person Sends Wedding Rings For Payment

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A supermarket chain in Grand Rapids would like to learn the identity of the person who mailed the firm an engagement and a wedding ring together with a note asking forgiveness for taking items from one of its stores.

R. F. Lundeen, vice president of Meijer, Inc., said the rings came in an envelope postmarked Clearwater, Fla. A note said: "Please accept in payment for things I took many years ago in your store. God has forgiven me. I pray you will forgive me too. God bless you."

The note was unsigned and there was no return address, Lundeen said.

The rings are about a size 8. The engagement ring is a diamond solitaire with two tiny diamonds on the sides while the wedding ring has five small diamonds.

Lundeen said Meijer has no desire to keep or sell the rings and would like to give them back if the owner can be found.

"This woman obviously has a lot of remorse," he said. "Something like that on your mind can ruin your happiness."

Dickinson Tops Doral Tourney

MIAMI (AP) — Gardner Dickinson says he "kicked away about 50 tournaments" in his 17 years on the golf trail, and he almost put the boot to another one when he finished the Doral Open Sunday with a bogey and double bogey.

But young Tom Weiskopf, with a chance to capitalize on Dickinson's ragged finish, showed that he, too, can kick away the golden opportunities in the clutch.

Surging from three strokes behind to tie Dickinson in a dramatic stretch run, Weiskopf blew it with a closing pair of bogeys and his 40-year-old foe walked away with the $20,000 top prize.

Tigers Lose Extra-Inning Game; Rookie Shuts Out Twin Sluggers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — They call pitcher Les Cain "Sugar" but batters aren't very sweet on him.

The 20-year-old left-hander from Richmond, Calif., blanked hard-hitting Minnesota's first-string lineup on one hit Sunday for three innings in a 10-inning game eventually won by the Twins, 5-4, at Orlando, Fla., Sunday.

The loss was the second extra-inning setback suffered by Detroit Tigers in three exhibition games.

Cain, Detroit's fourth choice in the 1966 baseball draft, has been in the Tigers' organization two seasons, posting an 11-13 mark at Montgomery in Southern Association last year.

Hawks And 76ers Clinch Pro Cage Division Titles

By The Associated Press

A couple of slugs of champagne may have helped the Detroit Pistons a little nearer to the National Basketball Association playoffs.

With Eddie Miles hitting 35 points and Dave Bing 30, the Pistons held onto fourth place in the NBA's Eastern Division, the lowest playoff berth, and beat St. Louis 133-121 Sunday.

A day earlier, the Hawks had clinched the Western Division championship and the celebration afterward was marked by free flowing bubble water.

St. Louis made it a close game for a half, then a seven-point burst by Detroit gave the Pistons a 16-point lead with four minutes left in the third period.

After the Hawks closed the gap to 101-96, the Pistons, led by Bing and Miles, reeled off 14 straight points to jump far ahead once more.

Detroit remains a half-game in front of Cincinnati with six games left on its schedule. The Pistons' next encounter is in Detroit Tuesday against the Seattle Sonics.

In other games, the Philadelphia 76ers, the defending NBA champions, clinched the crown Sunday afternoon with a 119-108 victory over the New York Knicks, and Cincinnati knocked off second-place Boston, 137-111, eliminating the Celtics.

Baltimore bombed Los Angeles 118-89 and San Francisco turned back Seattle, 118-112.

In Saturday's action, St. Louis tripped Chicago 115-109. Seattle got by San Diego 115-111 and Los Angeles nipped San Francisco 137-132 in overtime.

In American Basketball Association contests Sunday, Indiana topped New Orleans 113-105, Houston walloped Oakland 122-94, Pittsburgh whipped New Jersey 122-105 and Dallas edged Anaheim 112-110.

The 76ers apparently didn't expect to clinch Sunday, as the dressing room was bare of champagne, with only soda pop in sight as a happy Hannum went around shaking hands with his players and murmuring "great, just great. We did it again."

What happened Sunday was a big second-period for Philadelphia, triggered by Hal Green and Bill Cunningham, sending the 76ers from a 27-25 lead after one quarter to a 50-33 margin midway in the second.

Greer chipped in 13 of his 28 points and Cunningham 10 of his 18 in the spurt.

probably be a slight favorite over Iowa.

However, Iowa has shown ability to bounce back under Coach Ralph Miller who had to celebrate his 49th birthday anniversary last Saturday in the shadows of the loss to Michigan.

The only other time the Big Ten has held a basketball playoff was in 1908 when Chicago and Wisconsin tied for the league lead and Chicago won the playoff 18-16.

In recent years when two Big Ten teams tied for the title, the team which had most recently represented the conference in the NCAA playoffs stepped aside and allowed the other team to make the trip.

However, this ruling was changed this year and as a result Ohio State could wind up the beneficiary if the Buckeyes can win at Lafayette Tuesday night.

Purdue got a 29-point effort from sophomore ace Rick Mount and defeated Indiana 68-64 to finish third in the conference race and Northwestern downed Wisconsin 77-75 to wind up fourth. Michigan State edged Illinois 62-59 to finish in a sixth place tie behind Wisconsin with Illinois and Michigan.

Hawkeyes, Bucks Meet In Playoff

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's Hawkeyes, still stunned by their one-point loss to Michigan Saturday night, and Ohio State's happy Buckeyes meet in a playoff at Purdue's neutral floor Tuesday night.

The two teams ended in a tie for the Big Ten title and will engage in the first conference playoff in 60 years to determine the Big Ten representative in the NCAA playoffs.

Ohio State closed its conference campaign with a 67-64 triumph at Illinois last Monday and held little hope for a playoff since Iowa had won six straight conference games at home this season and had beaten Michigan at Ann Arbor 99-86.

But Michigan took a three-game winning streak to Iowa City, grabbed an early 13-2 lead and never lost the edge in posting a stunning 71-70 upset.

The playoff will mark the second meeting this season between Iowa and Ohio State. The Hawkeyes defeated Ohio State 74-72 in an overtime at Iowa City earlier in the season.

Because of Iowa's meltdown against Michigan and Ohio State's rejuvenated state for another chance, Ohio State will

Duke Blue Devils Complete NIT Tourney Field; NCAA Berth Open

By The Associated Press

Duke, stalled for a couple days, finally completed the National Invitation Tournament field, and now that they are in, the Blue Devils hope for a fast getaway.

But the NCAA, already speeding along with one weekend of play completed, still is waiting for its last team only three days before this weekend's regionals when its tournament tempo really quickens.

Either Iowa or Ohio State will be the last team to qualify for the NCAA field when they meet Tuesday night on a neutral court at Purdue to break a tie for the Big Ten title and decide the automatic bid to the tournament.

Tournament officials took their time filling the NIT field. Not influenced by Duke's 12-10 loss to stalling North Carolina State Friday night in the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tournament, the officials waited until North Carolina bombed State 87-50 Saturday night for the title and then took the Blue Devils over runner-up State.

Vic Babus, coach of sixth-ranked Duke, 21-5, the only ranked team in the NIT, expects a faster pace in that tournament "if we haven't forgotten how."

"The last four and a third games we had were slower than normal," he said.

Duke, one of the favorites, helps open the NIT Thursday night against Oklahoma City, 20-6, a team that averages 90 points per contest.

"I think they (the Chiefs) will start shooting when they hit New York City," Babus commented after accepting the bid Sunday night.

Marshall, 17-7, and St. Peter's, N.J., 21-2, another pair of hot-shot clubs, play the first game of the opening double-header with the first round of the 16-team field to be completed Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night with twin-bills.

Iowa missed one chance at the title last Saturday night by losing to Michigan 71-70 at home after failing to make up a 16-point deficit.

Regardless of the outcome of the Iowa-Ohio State playoff, the winner is not expected to survive the regional at Lexington, Ky., in which fourth-ranked Kentucky is favored.

The Big Ten representative meets East Tennessee, 19-6, which got this far by beating Florida State 79-59 at Kent, Ohio, last Saturday.

Marquette, 22-5, after nudging Bowling Green 71-70 at Kent, takes on Kentucky in the second game at Lexington Friday night.

Houston, top-ranked at 29-0, is favored to handle ninth-ranked Louisville, 20-6, Friday night at Wichita, Kan., and then beat the winner of the meeting between Texas Christian, 14-10, and Kansas State 19-7.

Houston got through the first round with a 94-76 victory over Chicago Loyola at Salt Lake City last Saturday night as Elvin Hayes hit 49 points and took in 27 rebounds. Kansas State clinched the Big Eight title at home that night with a 49-47 decision over Oklahoma City.

UCLA, No. 2, is the choice at Albuquerque, N.M. The Bruins, 25-1, open against New Mexico State, 22-5, with New Mexico, No. 7 at 23-3, opposing Santa Clara, 22-3, in the other game there Friday night.

New Mexico State ousted Weber State 68-57 at Salt Lake City while Santa Clara won the WCAC title by whipping California Loyola 77-62.

By The Associated Press

The Knicks, trailing by 29 points, 98-69, entering the final period gave a sellout crowd of 19,500 an exciting finish as they got to within 113-107 with 11 minutes left before Wilt Chamberlain put the clamps to the bid.

Chamberlain poured in Philly's last six points to ice the verdict. Big Wilt had 28 points, on 11 of 15 from the field and six of 12 foul shots. He also added 27 rebounds and 10 assists.

Connie Dierking scored 36 points in leading Cincinnati past Boston. Oscar Robertson contributed 29 points as the Royals

Denver, UND Win Puck Playoff Bids

By The Associated Press

Denver and North Dakota both have won berths in the NCAA hockey playoffs, while Bemidji State wrapped up the first NAIA hockey tournament championship by nipping Lake Superior State of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., 5-4.

All of the action came Saturday night as Denver defeated Minnesota 7-3 and North Dakota edged Michigan Tech 3-2, both in Western Collegiate Hockey Association contests.

Bemidji State had to battle Lake Superior State into sudden death overtime before Terry Bergstrom's 40-foot slap shot decided the tournament title.

Gustavus Adolphus claimed third place in the NAIA tournament with a 7-6 overtime triumph over Boston State. The tournament was played at St. Paul, Minn.

playoff berth by virtue of its Saturday night victory and a scoreless tie with Michigan Tech Friday night. The playoff berth was based on the most goals scored in two games.

Tech's goals were scored by Herb Boxer and Edgar Rivalin. North Dakota knotted the score on goals by Mike Furlong and Bob Tuff. Dave Hudson knocked in the winning score in the final period.

Denver's victory was its 20th straight triumph—a record for the school—and the 29th consecutive win on home ice. Denver had defeated Minnesota the night before, 9-0.

Craig Patrick and Jim Wiste each scored twice for Denver while Bill Klatt had two of the Gophers' three goals.

Hawkeyes, Bucks Meet In Playoff

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's Hawkeyes, still stunned by their one-point loss to Michigan Saturday night, and Ohio State's happy Buckeyes meet in a playoff at Purdue's neutral floor Tuesday night.

The two teams ended in a tie for the Big Ten title and will engage in the first conference playoff in 60 years to determine the Big Ten representative in the NCAA playoffs.

Ohio State closed its conference campaign with a 67-64 triumph at Illinois last Monday and held little hope for a playoff since Iowa had won six straight conference games at home this season and had beaten Michigan at Ann Arbor 99-86.

But Michigan took a three-game winning streak to Iowa City, grabbed an early 13-2 lead and never lost the edge in posting a stunning 71-70 upset.

The playoff will mark the second meeting this season between Iowa and Ohio State. The Hawkeyes defeated Ohio State 74-72 in an overtime at Iowa City earlier in the season.

Because of Iowa's meltdown against Michigan and Ohio State's rejuvenated state for another chance, Ohio State will

Legislators Try To Update Riot Laws

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP)—If more than 30 people rushed out on the field to join in a fight during a Detroit Tiger baseball game it could be called a riot under Michigan's present riot law.

Existing law also calls for the mayor and aldermen to circulate among rioters to demand that they disperse.

In a related provision of Michigan's penal code, shouting in the streets of a village can be a breach of peace.

For the act of rioting itself, the law now provides no penalty. Officers must make an arrest on the basis of some criminal act or misdemeanor connected with the riot.

Michigan lawmakers currently are trying to update the state's riot law.

The Senate has approved and sent to the House a bill which defines the crime of riot.

Under the bill it would be riotous for five or more persons, acting in concert, "to wrongfully engage in tumultuous or violent conduct and thereby intentionally or recklessly cause or create a serious risk of causing public terror or alarm."

Law Unenforceable

"The current law is completely unenforceable," said Sen. Robert Richardson Jr., R-Saginaw, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"Almost anything we could come up with would be better than the law we have now. But we hope to get a much better law."

Another item in the law as it exists now would seem to encourage counter-rioters. It reads:

"Private persons may forcibly interfere to suppress a riot or resist rioters."

Sunday baseball as such, the law says, is not a breach of the peace but may become one.

An attorney general's opinion has held:

"A crowd exceeding 30 persons assembled on Sunday to witness a baseball game or for any similar purpose, if riotous or tumultuous, may be ordered by a sheriff to disperse; refusal to obey the order renders persons so assembled liable to arrest and prosecution."

Breach Of Peace

Other rulings by attorney general's opinions have held:

"Shouting in a village street between 9 and 10 o'clock at night so loudly that one may be heard on another street 150 feet away is a breach of the peace."

And:

"The wanton discharge of a firearm in the public street of a city is a breach of the peace."

Suppose a little old lady going shopping was caught in a riot and an officer ordered her to "assist in seizing and securing such rioters . . ."

Anyone refusing such a command "shall be deemed to be one of the rioters or persons unlawfully assembled" under the present statute.

Requires Count

Meanwhile, the present law requires a close and accurate count by police before they can declare any unruly assemblage a riot.

Present definition says rioters are "any persons to the number of 12 or more being armed with clubs or other dangerous weapons, or any persons to the number of 30 or more, whether armed or not."

Nearly every elected official has to circulate among rioters and order them to disperse under present law.

In addition to state and city police and sheriff's officers, this includes the mayor and aldermen of a city, the supervisor of a township, trustees and members of a common council of a village and any justice of the peace living in a city, township or village.

Consider Safety

The law does allow these public officials to consider their own safety a bit, however, adding that they shall "go among the people so assembled, or as near to them as may be with safety."

Public officials who chicken out and fail to perform their duty in this manner can be found guilty of a misdemeanor and sentenced to up to six months in jail or fined up to $250.

Snowmobile Flip Injuries Fatal

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Donald W. Ronney, 29, of Traverse City, died in a hospital here Sunday of injuries received in a snowmobile accident. State Police said Ronney was injured March 4 when his snowmobile overturned in Grand Traverse County's Garfield Township and he was run over by another snowmobile.

GM Employs More Nonwhites

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. hired 5,000 nonwhites last year to bring its total nonwhite employment in this country to 68,000, according to the company's 59th annual report.

Nonwhites account for nearly 12 per cent of the company's total employment in the United States, the report said, and "are employed in responsible positions."

The report said the company employed an average of 406,000 persons on an hourly rated basis during 1967 for a payroll of $3.4 billion. Hourly rates for these employees averaged $4.12 an hour for 39.5 hours per week, or $162.73 per week. Average weekly wages for all manufacturing last year was $114.90, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Kerner Report Fair: Gregory

EAST LANSING (AP) — Negro comedian Dick Gregory said Friday the recently released Kerner report on civil disorders could help keep the coming summer a "cool one."

Gregory told a news conference at Michigan State University. "There could be a cool summer this year," if people take the report to heart and create an atmosphere that shows they are sincere in wanting to help. He did not, however, discount the possibility of more civil unrest.

The bloody Detroit riot last summer helped America instead of hurting it, because people are aware of the problems now, he said.

"When diggers start burning down towns, they spend some money for a report," Gregory said. "That—the riots—is the reason we got such a fair report."

The comedian said he felt the report was "unfair to white folks." The report, which blames whites for racial tensions, should have said that "90 per cent of the problem is the politicians," Gregory said.

He said he is going ahead with plans to block the Democratic National Convention in Chicago Aug. 26, starting with demonstrations in June. They will be stepped up until they last 24 hours a day, he said.

Ontario Moose Found Numerous

Ontario moose hunters should be successful for some years to come, according to current findings of an aerial survey of the province's moose range presently being undertaken by the Department of Lands and Forests. It is apparent moose densities are at about the same level as nine years ago, when the last count was taken.

More than 300 sixteen square mile plots have been surveyed since inventory began earlier this year. As many as 51 animals have been counted in certain plots and even in some heavily hunted areas counts of one to two moose per square mile have been obtained.

Speculators Warned; What About Savers?

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP) — "They've warned the stock market speculators," the broker said, "but who has warned the savers?" Then he told a Wall Street parable.

Grandpa Jones, it seems, saved $1,000 in 1933—a tough depression year—and it buys $380 worth at today's prices. Had he put the money in a typical New York savings bank from Jan. 1, 1934 to Jan. 1, 1968 at compound interest he would have $2,481. But even this would buy only $934 compared with what $1,000 bought in 1933.

Grandpa Smith, on the other hand, put $1,000 into the stock market over the same period, buying and selling completely at random. "Careless," Smith, they called him. By Jan. 1, 1968 his money grew to $10,850—and that would buy $4,123 worth at 1933 prices.

Interest Higher Now

The figures on Smith's results—buying and selling just any stocks on the New York Stock Exchange—are based on a computerized study by the University of Chicago of stock action from 1926 through 1960, updated through 1967 by Merrill Lynch.

Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc., which sponsored the study.

The growth of $1,000 at compound interest seems low today when savings banks pay 5 per cent. Over most of the 34-year period, however interest rates were much lower, ranging upwards of 1½ per cent. At current 5 per cent rates it would take $1,000 only 14 years to double. But nobody knows whether 5 per cent rates will continue for 14 years. And nobody knows what $1,000 invested in stocks would be in 14 years.

"Every elevator operator in the country has the idea he can get rich in the stock market," said William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, earlier this year.

Nest Eggs Shrink

He warned against "inordinate" speculation by the public and some "go-go" mutual funds. Similar warnings were issued by several prominent men. "Speculation is a dirty word," the broker said. "But what about investment? Have you heard a single man of Martin's prominence warn the millions of Americans planning for retirement that their nest eggs are shrinking?"

Living costs rose 3.3 per cent in 1966, 3.1 per cent in 1967 and are now rising at an annual rate of 3.8 per cent. Each jump cut that much off the purchasing power of the dollar. And the end is not in sight, economists agree.

Even so, the broker—who abides by an ethical code—advises each client that before buying stock he should have adequate cash savings for emergencies and enough insurance to protect his family.

Package Deal

Savings banks and insurance companies are examples of the safe, fixed-dollar investment. The erosion of the dollar's purchasing power is such, however, that even these are starting to hedge against the "silent robber"—inflation. A New York savings bank now offers its patrons a package deal: one-third of the deposit in savings, one-third in insurance and one-third in mutual funds. Some big insurance companies have entered the mutual fund business. More are expected to follow.
